19	Friday, April 08, 2022	To organize classroom activity on 'Design and Showcase your website' for BCA students	In the college, we employ innovative teaching-learning practices to improve academic outcomes and promote equitable learning. In line with this principle, a website designing activity was organized for the students of BCA Semester II in the month of April. The activity began on April 8, 2022, when the students used an online voting app to choose a topic for a sample website that they wanted to create. After researching the chosen topic and working on their websites, students self-nominated to showcase their completed websites using a Google Form. On April 23, 2022, the day of the presentation, four students, Noor, Sania, Gurleen, and Divya, presented their work. In order to avoid bias in selecting students for presentation, an online random name picker was used. To keep the post-presentation discussion focused, the discussion was moderated through a set of questions that required the students to highlight the learning from the activity as well as mention any problems/challenges faced while designing the website and how these challenges were overcome.
